

Retiree Will Ronnebeck

Will Ronnebeck began his career with the Kenora Catholic District School Board as a Maintenance Tradesperson on May 23, 2006. As a multi-skilled tradesperson, Will maintained the mechanical, plumbing and heating components of the Board's facilities and was always passionate about making sure that machinery and systems were in good working order.

Will approached his work with a willingness to be flexible and go above and beyond to finish what needs to be done. He took great pride and care in the work that he did, and was always willing to help out whenever asked.

When we think about Will, the following quote comes to mind "With some workers you have to drive stakes in the ground to see if they are moving. Will follows the laws of physics. A body in motion will tend to stay in motion until told to stop. He was always looking for something to do and never slowed down."

We want to thank Will for his commitment and dedication to Catholic Education. We wish him and his wife Lynn a long and prosperous retirement with many years of happiness.
